

Thailand

- International undergraduate programs are offered at twenty-six (26) universities.
- Admissions requirements vary depending on the nature of the program and university specific admission policies.
- Applicants to undergraduate programs must complete grade 12 (or equivalent) to apply for a bachelor's degree program.
- Some universities require an entrance examination, an interview, a physical exam, or an aptitude test – this varies among the universities.
- Application forms may be obtained directly from the universities.
- Students applying to the Thai language sections of mainstream Thai universities should be aware that there have been changes in the admissions process, qualifications, and document submission. Please see your counselor as early as possible so that we can produce the required documents in time.
